This was my first year at the New York State Horse Council annual meeting and it was gorgeous. I loved it so much. It took place at a very pretty old mansion and the food was great. This experience was so wonderful, during the event I learned the different stages of how horses came to be today. In the museum of horses that the people who worked there did an excellent job on it and it was very educational. Also the food that was catered was delicious and the food choice was perfect.

Then I got to speak to so many people during the event and planned for some cool events like EquiFest that is in March. During the event, just after lunch they had raffle baskets and door prizes. Baskets were impeccable and the door prizes are going to be so helpful to all the horse owners that got them.

I got to give a speech on what I was doing recently, what I am working on, what my goals are and how my ideas plan to be helpful. So I loved going to this event and the scenery was beautiful. I hope to attend next year.
